Did You Know!

Often we get criticism for "adopting" the pagan ritual of bringing tree branches and trees indoor during the winter or season of Advent and Christmas. The criticism is that we adopted pagan customs. The fact that most people ignore is that God created the universe and made everything that is good. If the pagan tradition of bringing evergreen branches contained something good – the hope of eternal life and the awaiting the joy of spring – then we should adopt it as it matches with the eternal truths of awaiting God's return and the hope of new life that comes through Jesus' birth, death, and Resurrection. The Catholic Church is malleable enough to adopt customs and cultures that are good and express the same ideas as our faith.

Holy Cross recommends that the following be respected:

Christian Burial:

Notice should be made with the priest before arrangements are made with the funeral director.

Social Hall:

Our Social Hall and kitchen may be rented out for special events.

The gruesome death of Jesus prompts many questions regarding our salvation. Often I heard questions like, why did Jesus have to die? Why did he have to suffer the way he did? Was it necessary that Jesus suffered so that we can be saved? These questions, and some answers to them, caused rifts within Christianity and pose immense challenges for understanding our salvation.

Before I can begin to address the theories regarding Jesus' actions to bring us salvation, we must understand the nature of sin, its effects on our world, and its relationship to God and his actions. Sin is any deviation from God's laws. These deviations lead to the loss of God's presence in the world, a turning inward on ourselves, and a destruction to the goodness of the world. The best example for the effects of sin are Adam and Eve when they were kicked out of the Garden of Eden. We can easily read this passage as though God was punishing Adam and Eve. If you were to read the text carefully, however, you would notice that God is not pronouncing a punishment over them but telling them the effects of their sin. Sin caused God to be angry. We often picture God's anger as the vengeful, wrathful side from the Old Testament. This "anger of God" is a just anger to the destruction of his world and the loss of his presence and the goodness of the world. God has every right to be angry over the decline of his good and perfect world. Although he could stop the sin by destroying the world as we have seen in Noah's Flood and the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, God's plan is something much stranger, the death of his Son. So, why is this the best plan and why did his Son have to die to end the cycle of sin and death?

Theory 1: Jesus placated an angry God.

God is angry over our continued sinful behaviors. All righteous acts need a solution or a way to right the wrongs that have been committed, especially with an all just God. Thus God's vengeful anger for the destruction caused by sin should kill everyone and destroy the world. Instead of God destroying the world and causing an end to sin, Jesus stepped in the way and took the brunt of God's anger preventing us from having to experience it. Jesus takes on all the pain and suffering of the world and all the effects of sin so that we don't have to bear the penalty.

If you were following along with my discussion on the nature of the relationship between the Father and the Son, you would quickly realize the problem with this theory. On one level God is angry due to our sins. He didn't want us to live this way, he wanted us to choose him, and he wanted us to comply with his will. He has a right to be angry and just in his condemnations. The issue isn't God's anger but his wrathful anger towards his Son. God cannot fight himself. He cannot be angry towards himself or take out his wrath on himself. The theory challenges the very nature of God and puts God at odds with himself. Therefore, this theory doesn't work. The anger of God is not abated by the sacrifice of Jesus, his Son.

Hey kids, want some candy? Fr. Cody has a challenge for you. Using the bingo cards, once per Mass, if you recognize one of the words on the Bingo card from the Mass, show it to Fr. Cody and he will give you a stamp. If you get a bingo, you get candy.

Out of a desire to use our faith and our parish to help the world, I would like to start a program to support needs throughout the world. These acts of support will come from the parish resources and will not be a second collection or another appeal. If you have causes or people throughout the world that you would like to support, send an email to frcwilliams@holycrossmt.org.

Blessings

On the third Sunday of each month a blessing table will be set up in the entrance of the church. You are welcome to bring any objects of devotion that you would like blessed and Fr. Cody will bless them after Mass. This will be available each third Sunday of the month.

The Diocesan Capital Campaign has kicked off. The goal is to raise $30 million as a Diocese in 5 years. These funds will create endowments for seminarian education and promotion of vocations, retired priests, spreading our faith, and supporting parishes. We get back 40% of all money raised in this parish. Please take a prayer card and pray for the success of the campaign. Fr. Cody will be calling everyone and setting up meeting to discuss this campaign and hear your desires for our parish.

Mondays 7-8:30

The next topic is "The Liturgical Year: Celebrating Jesus' life" on Monday, January 8th. The notes are posted on the website and a livestream version is available. If you would like to join the livestream version, send an email to frcwilliams@holycrossmt.org.

I encourage everyone to come and use this opportunity.
